Senator Miller's condition is steadily improving.

Cleveland's course in leaving the Austrian mission vacant is approved in England.

The excitement caused by Gladstone's announced determination to support the Irish home rule is decreasing.

Senator Dolph has issued invitations to the members of the Pacific Coast delegation to a dinner party for January 5th.

Kentucky, says the New York Tribune, deserves to be called "the mother of Speakers." It has been honored with office eleven times.

The San Francisco Typographical Union, No. 21, at a regular meeting, Sunday, adopted resolutions to the memory of the late D. E. McCarthy, of the Virginia Chronicle.

The new British man-of-war Camperdown, built of steel at a cost of $2,375,000, is the heaviest ship ever launched from the royal ships in England. It will be three years before the Camperdown is ready for sea.

The sum expended by the national government in showing respect to the memory of Vice President Hendricks is figured out to have been in excess of the total value of his fortune, which is estimated at $150,000.

The President is having statistics in regard to silver prepared in the Treasury Department. Book's speech evidently produced a profound impression, and the Administration believes that it is necessary to answer it if possible.

Mrs. Elliott F. Shepherd, daughter of the late Wm. H. Vanderbilt, arrived home yesterday morning on the steamer Servia, her presence being necessary to probate her father's will. The necessary legal steps can now be taken without further delay.

The new Brazilian slave law fixes the maximum value of slaves at the following rates: Slaves under thirty years, $900; slaves from thirty to forty years, $800; slaves from forty to fifty years, $600; slaves from fifty to fifty-five years, $400; slaves from fifty-five to sixty years, $200. The value of female slaves is put at 25 per cent. lower than these rates.

In a report on hydrophobia, lately made to the Academie de Medecine by M. Leblanc, attention was called to the fact that the disease increases in proportion to the lax application of the prefectural laws concerning dogs. In Berlin, where the laws are executed with precision, there was not a case of hydrophobia during the past year.

The Eureka Sentinel says: The reputation Nevada has in the East for rottenness in political matters is due in no small degree to the press of the State. The almost constant talk of how a certain county was colonized several years ago, by the importation of 25 men, who elected a Senator and an Assemblyman; of the United States Senatorship being a question simply of who can pay the biggest price for the purchasable vote, etc., is not calculated to help the State at the present time. If the people of Nevada are generally righteously indignant at what has been, there are certainly other and very decided and effective ways of showing it. Let there be more action of the right character and less talk of the kind—at least, for a while.

Death of Mrs. Lucy C. Thornton.

The relict of the late Judge Harry I. Thornton, Mrs. Lucy Crittenden Thornton, died at her residence, 301 Van Ness avenue, San Francisco, on the afternoon of Christmas Day. She was the daughter of Col. John Crittenden, and was born in Kentucky in 1802. One of her brothers, Robert Henry Crittenden, was Governor of Arkansas, another was a United States Senator and afterwards Attorney-General of the United States, and a third brother, Thomas Crittenden, was the father of General Crittenden of Missouri and A. P. Crittenden of San Francisco.

NEITHER DEAD NOR TAKING A NAP.

The Walker Lake Bulletin very sensibly and properly says:

For a long time it seemed to be the proper thing for people with the stomach-ache to mention as an original idea that the State was dead. Many advocated a return to a territorial condition, and following the lead of demagogues who know that hard times is an ever popular theme, were unceasingly doleful in their predictions. These people with sour stomachs and diseased livers will now either have to move to another State or take a course of some of the well advertised patent medicines. In their dispirited state of mind they cannot live long here under our present conditions. The truth is the State was neither dead nor sleeping. It was only taking what the sailors call forty winks, ready at the proper time to spring into active wide-awake life. All hands are now on deck and it would be hard to find a country with so much promise of prosperity. Everywhere over the State developments are being made. Not alone in this county, but in all the counties are evidences of increasing resources, and in no State in the Union is there so encouraging an outlook for the poor man who is willing to exert himself for his own benefit. This county in another year will keep a mint busy. It is without doubt the best mineral section in the United States. Not one or two well defined districts, not a dozen; it can scarcely be divided into districts except arbitrarily. It may be called one large mining district with good mines in all quarters excepting the Reservation, where they only wait the pleasure of the Indian authorities. The big mines at Aurora will in a few months pay dividends to the English owners and give employment to hundreds of people here. Pine Grove is getting to be a mining camp which in other sections would be notable. It is a camp where poor men make money out of their claims. The Wasatch mountains are showing gold ledges for miles along their range, and in a short time many a bar of gold will come down from the well watered and well wooded cañons. Gold Mountain is again a bullion producing district; Alida Valley promises better than ever. Candelaria has stepped to the front line with a development in the Holmes mine which is said to be the greatest ever made in that great mine. Our own Hawthorne District with the wonderful Laporta is almost enough for one county, while the outside districts which are now being opened can hardly be enumerated. This is not bad, but it must be remembered that with all this work the county is even yet scarcely known in the prospector's sense. Those unacquainted with the country would be amazed to learn the comparatively insignificant portion of Esmeralda county, which has had work done on it, or which has even been examined. With all the interest now exhibited in the country around Hawthorne, not one-tenth of the area within twenty miles has been even looked at except from a distance, and as this is at present perhaps the best prospected section on this coast, it is easy to conjecture the extent of the unexplored land in the county.

May Not Be Confirmed.

It is reported that a strong opposition will be made to the confirmation of the appointment of John Hise, appointed to be Surveyor-General of Arizona. Hise was appointed upon the recommendation of Mr. Sparks, the Commissioner of the General Land Office. He is charged with having been interested in a miscarriage of the mails and other like eccentricities. Postoffice Inspector Tracy has submitted to First Assistant Postmaster-General Stevenson a report upon Hise's operations. The report is not made public, but it is said that its contents may lead to the withdrawal of the appointment.

"What," asks an exchange, "is the cause of drunkenness?" Well, we can't answer for all, but we believe whisky causes a great deal of it. Whisky, resolutely stuck to, will cause about as large a drunk as anything, though a judicious mixing up of various drinks will accelerate matters if a man is in a hurry.

An exchange tells us of a man who died leaving five years subscription unpaid. As the coffin was being closed the editor, with tears in his eyes as large as glass balls, walked mournfully up and threw in a linen coat, a palm leaf fan and a thermometer.

Fleas are indigenous to the coast region of California. They do not exist in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada range. It is believed that the bedbugs, which are indigenous to Nevada, are able to prevent fleas from gaining a foothold in the Sagebrush State.—Ogden News.

A writer says, "Things look dim to old folks." They undoubtedly do when the old folks look into the parlor between the hours of nine and twelve in the evening. But the old folks look ominously distinct to the occupants of its dimness.

Unjust and Impolitic.

Tuscarora Times-Review.

Does the Carson Tribune think it is helping the Mint cause by abusing Senator Fair? It is true that both he and Senator Jones ought to have been at Washington at the opening of Congress preparing for the silver fight, but so far as the Mint matter is concerned it is but justice to Senator Fair to say that he did all in his power to prevent its suspension, and has since adopted all possible means to effect its re-opening. That thus far he has not been successful, we have the best reasons for believing, is no fault of his, and the Tribune's abuse is therefore as unjust as it is impolitic.

Only two negro Congressmen are now in the House of Representatives. They are from North and South Carolina respectively. They are named Small and O'Hara. Small is a burly negro, who stole a gunboat from the Confederates in 1861 and run it into the Federal lines at Beaufort. O'Hara comes from North Carolina. He is a man gifted with speech and cheek. He has the cunning of his race and the pugnacity of the Celt.

Fleas are said to be unusually numerous and active in California this season. There are no fleas in Nevada, but we have no cause for complaint on that score, as we have enough bedbugs and woodticks to keep the blood in active circulation.—Times-Review.

An exchange says that Hon. John H. Dennis, of Tuscarora, has been offered the appointment of Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for Utah. If his party can find no greater reward for his eminent services, then is Democracy ungrateful.—True Measure.

Senator Riddleberger has reformed, but habit is a hard thing to master. It is all that the Senator can do to keep his right eye from winking violently when he is passing a drug store where soda water is sold.

It is to be hoped that next Fall the people will elect a representative who will look out for the interests of Nevada be he Democrat or Republican.—Lyon County Times.

His Mind Still Wrecked—Escape and Recapture.

The Sacramento Bee of Saturday tells the following:

Wednesday morning L. D. Wickes, an old-time friend and acquaintance of the City attorney, who was formerly Assemblyman from El Dorado county, visited that officer, with a request for the procuring of a writ of habeas corpus for his restoration to his estate, and the removal of the disability occasioned by an order of Court, committing him to the insane asylum at Stockton. The City Attorney had known the gentleman so long that he was led to believe that reason had been restored; and, acting upon this belief, advised what course to pursue, and actually drew up a petition in the name of John M. Milliken, praying that the disability might be removed. But before any definite action was taken, the City Attorney concluded to make more complete investigations as to the present sanity of the visitor, and thus conversed with him a number of subjects during all of which no indication of any mental aberrations appeared. Indeed, he was so well informed upon general topics that both the City Attorney and the merchant would have been deceived; their suspicion was aroused by statements of cruelty exercised by the management of the Asylum, and his expressed desire to release a number of patients upon habeas corpus. The merchant then invited the visitor to his residence that evening upon the suggestion of the City Attorney, to inform himself fully upon the sanity of the man. During the conversation, evidences of unsoundness were developed. In speaking of telegraphing, he said that he had never engaged in the business, but that the practice and theory came to him without any effort. This interview satisfied the merchant.

However, Wednesday afternoon, Kent Blessing, of the Capital Hotel, who was also an old friend of the visitor, and who had known him for many years, but who was not aware of the fact of his residence at the Insane Asylum, was asked by him to put up a cold Christmas dinner for twenty persons. The hotel keeper knowing that the customer had formerly a large number of men in his employ, set about to fill the order, and put up two 14-pound turkeys, several hams, half a dozen of claret, etc. Next morning the destination of the "dinner" was asked. Upon being furnished, it appeared that the directions were of a very ambiguous nature and the address was "Ward 22, Insane Asylum, Stockton." Here was the first evidence of insanity that came to the knowledge of the Boniface. Knowing that the City Attorney was attending to the business of the party, the hotel-keeper called at the former's office that morning, where notes were compared and the conclusion arrived at, that there was something wrong and that the party must still be of unsound mind. After enjoying a good laugh at each other, the City Attorney, merchant and hotel keeper waited upon Chief Jackson, who at once telegraphed to the Superintendent of the Asylum at Stockton for information. In a few moments there came an answer to the effect that the party was an escapee and must be returned at once to the asylum. So cunning was the man in his conversation that he came very near deceiving all the parties mentioned.

Pyramid Deserter.

The Virginia Chronicle writes as follows of one of our mining camps:

The mining camp of Pyramid district is entirely deserted. D. L. Bliss purchased an interest in the Jones & Kinhead mine at that place a year ago, for which he paid $12,000, and sold it for $5,000. Mr. Bliss gave the refractory ore of the district a thorough test. He had a water jacket erected at considerable cost, and went to Denver and brought out an experienced expert, who had been very successful in working base ores. The furnace was started up, made one run and the enterprise abandoned. The ore from the mine is said to assay from $40 to $90 per ton, but so far all attempts to separate the precious metals from the base matter have proved unprofitable. A year ago the camp had a population numbering 75, but at present there is only one family remaining, and they intend to emigrate as soon as they can get away.

Pyramid is not dead, but only sleeping. Vigorous operations will be resumed next year, and every effort made to reduce the ore.

ORLANDO EVANS, P. M.

The Fine Display Exhibited by Commissioner W. M. Havenor.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat, of Dec. 20th, speaks of Nevada's exhibit at the Exposition in the annexed complimentary terms:

The exhibit of Nevada was one of the first in place at the Exposition, and has attracted great attention from every class of visitors. No display in the building is deserving of more study, for the farmer, miner, student, scientist and general observer will find that he is amply repaid for whatever time he expends in viewing the productions of that favored State. It has been the desire of Commissioner Havenor to present the resources of the State in such a manner that the visitors can get a correct idea of her resources without any great study. To this end he has collected his exhibits carefully and arranged them to the best advantage. He has gone about his work intelligently and energetically and is rewarded by seeing his efforts crowned with success.

The mineral exhibit consists of ores from each of the fourteen counties in the State; fine specimens of lead, crystallized and other ores of gold, rich specimens of native ruby, wire and horn silver, stephanite chloride, carbonate and other ores of silver, numerous specimens of cobalt and nickel, galena, copper, antimony, manganese, sulphur, cinabar, alumina, mica, gypsum, salt, kaolin, silica, crude and manufactured borax, crude and manufactured soda, rare petrifications and geological specimens.

There is also an interesting collection of basket-ware and curios, a fine exhibit of photographs, showing the mines, hoisting works and many places of interest.

Her fields and gardens are represented by collections of all the fruits grown in Nevada, dried and preserved; 200 varieties of the finest apples, mammoth spuds, cheese, honey, timothy and alfalfa hay, which is not excelled in the Exposition.

As a mining State, Nevada has $607,000,000 to her credit, and is producing yearly between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000 in gold and silver, and her mountains yet scarcely prospected.

As a stock State, it has at present 700,000 head of the highest grade of beef cattle, commanding the highest price in the Eastern and Western markets.

As an agricultural State, the yield per acre of grain, potatoes, vegetables, etc., is the highest in the United States. Improved lands, with water for irrigation, is worth from $10 to $150 per acre, according to location. Thousands of acres of State and railroad lands can be purchased for from $1 25 to $2 50 per acre. The climate is dry and healthy, while the school system is most excellent.

All of the State's many advantages are presented at the Exposition. The taste shown in the mounting arrangement and the careful labeling of specimens are a credit both to the State and her Commissioner.

Regarding Utah Officials.

A letter was shown a Salt Lake Tribune reporter, Christmas, from a prominent Democratic official in Washington, who enjoys close relations with the President and his Secretaries Lamar and Garland, saying that S. A. Merritt was there and had announced himself a candidate for Governor of Utah; but the letter added that there would be no present removals of Federal officers in Utah, as the President was satisfied with the present incumbents.

Truckee Don't Want the Chinese.

The anti-Chinese meeting at Truckee last Friday night was another grand success and demonstrated the firm determination of the white population that the Chinese must go. It seems to be the impression that if law and order can prevail, well and good, but if force is necessary that it will be used. The Vigilantes held a secret meeting, and undoubtedly arranged plans for the expulsion of the heathens.

Senator Fair's Christmas Charity.

Senator James G. Fair has sent as a Christmas present to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, of San Francisco, the substantial sum of $1,000, to that worthy institution to help meet its current yearly expenses. It will be remembered that Mr. Fair recently donated the same institution a valuable site in the Western Addition on which to erect a more commodious building.

The new Judge Advocate.

The Governor has recently appointed William Mooney, the pioneer livery stable man as Judge Advocate on his staff with the title of Colonel. This is the reward of true military merit and soldierly accomplishments. In time of war Mr. Mooney can be depended upon to furnish all the cavalry that is required for service out of his own stable.
